DETAILS

Amy Lynn Bradley, while on a Caribbean family vacation, went missing from the Royal Caribbean International Cruise Line's, The Rhapsody of the Seas. This ship had departed on Sunday, March 22, 1998, from San Juan, Puerto Rico, and traveled to its first port of call, the island of Aruba, on Monday, March 23, 1998. On Tuesday, March 24, 1998, The Rhapsody of the Seas, departed Aruba and was traveling in international waters to its next island port, Curacao, Antilles. That morning, between the hours of 5:30 a.m. and 7:30 a.m., Amy Lynn Bradley went missing. She was last seen early that morning in her cabin, as well as on the deck of the cruise ship. The vessel later departed Curacao and continued on to the island of St. Martin for an arrival by March 26, 1998, and further traveled to the port of St. Thomas, USVI, by March 27, 1998. Extensive searches on the ship and at sea did not produce any signs of Amy's whereabouts. This investigation is still ongoing.

If you have any information concerning the whereabouts of Amy Lynn Bradley, please contact the FBI's Washington D.C. Field Office at (202) 278-2000, your local FBI office, or the nearest American Embassy or Consulate.
